Corry Shevlin Named New CEO of JSDC

We are pleased to announce that the Board of Directors has approved Corry Shevlin as our new chief executive officer!

Corry has been with the JSDC for almost nine years and will formally begin his time as CEO on March 1st.

In addition to serving the JSDC from intern to Business Development Manager in the past nine years, he also currently serves on the Board of Directors for both the Economic Development Association of North Dakota and the MidAmerica Economic Development Council.

Outgoing CEO Connie Ova will begin working three days a week as Corry steps into his new role. She looks forward to begin her transition to retirement, while still being about to help with JSDC's major projects. She has stated that she feels very comfortable turning over the role to Corry.

We look forward to seeing what the future will bring with these exciting new changes!

Internship Reimbursement Program Guidelines Changed

The JSDC Board of Directors voted to approve guideline changes to the current Internship Reimbursement Program, as suggested by the Existing Business Committee.

Employers that wish to take advantage of this program, please note that the JSDC is now asking that student interns be within two years of graduation/completing their program and can only qualify for funding for one semester.

Daycare Expansion Applications Now Available

The application for our new daycare expansion assistance program is now available!

Please contact the JSDC at info@growingjamestown.com for an application or more information.
